NEXT ISSUE • CAN THE SWORD OF OMENS DEFEAT EXCALIBUR!?

THUNDERCATS, HO!

DON DALEY: EDITOR-DARYL EDELMAN: ASSISTANT EDITOR
C/O MARVEL COMICS-387 PARK AVENUE SOUTH-NEW YORK, NEW YORK-10016
ATTENTION CORRESPONDENTS: IF YOU DON'T WANT YOUR FULL ADDRESS PRINTED, PLEASE BE SURE TO TELL US SO!

Dear Don:

I'm one of the legion of adult (30 years old) comic/cartoon watchers who's a fan of the THUNDERCATS. Yes, I know 30-year-old women generally only watch cartoons with their children, but so what? The Thundercats, both the cartoon and comic versions, are particularly well done and feature some great stories! Keep it up!

I'm writing in to explain why Lion-O grew up and 'Kit and 'Kat didn't. Pardon my confusion, but wasn't that answered in one of the first letters pages of the magazine? (It was!) 'Kit and 'Kat aged just as much as Lion-O but, being a smaller breed of cat, they merely did not grow as tall as Lion-O did. I, personally, am fond of this explanation as it eliminates the token "kids" from many stories. Otherwise, what's next — a cute dog? (Perish forbid!) Please leave that as the explanation, and don't fall back on the defective sleep capsule story you will have to use to explain it another way.

Give my regards to the writers and artists. I am very pleased with their work.

Cindy Rancourt

There's nothing unusual about liking Thundercats, Cindy, regardless of your age. Thanks for your comments and your compliments. We'd love to hear from the rest of that legion of adult fans! Please, let us know how you like the Thundercats!

Also a special thanks for your explanation. We received a whole slew of replies concerning the Great Lion-O Aging Controversy. We'll try to fit as many as we can on this page, but if any readers who sent in an answer don't see their names printed, don't despair! We'll get to you in the months to come.

Now, here are some more letters of explanation . . .

Dear Thunderpeople:

In issue #16 you asked your readers to send in explanations regarding why Lion-O grew up and Wilykat and Wilykit didn't. Well, I have the answer. As we all know, if your refrigerator breaks down, the food spoils. That's what happened to Lion-O. While 'Kat and 'Kit aged just a bit, Lion-O aged at least twice as fast as they did in the sleep capsules! I'm not trying to say he got spoiled, though — that was just an example.

John Speer Voskamp
Block Island, RI

Dear Editors:

I have an answer as to why Lion-O seemed to age much faster than both Wilykat and Wilykit. Lion-O was a little bit older than Wilykit and Wilykat to begin with. Jaga said they would all age a little bit while in the capsules, and they did — Lion-O just happened to be at the age where his race gets big and strong, so, as time passed in the sleep capsules, he grew up. 'Kit and 'Kat are still too young for that, but soon — look out!

Brian Kingman

Thank you, Brian and John, for helping us out. To the rest of you Thundercats fans, keep those letters coming! We love to hear from our readers, and we appreciate your help in making THUNDERCATS a better comic!

Dear Thundercats,

I'm sixteen years old and proud to say that I LOVE THUNDERCATS! I've been a loyal THUNDERCATS fan now for over two years, and I've collected a great deal of the Thundercats' figures, vehicles, and everything else that has to do with the Thundercats.

I think your comic is perfect except for one detail. The last four issues (#s 13, 14, 15, 16) have all been adaptations of the TV show. Please make up new stories for the comics like you used to. It's not as much fun reading a story when you already know its ending.

I've been wanting to write other Thundercats fans like myself. I wrote Joe Keaugh, who said the same thing in issue #13, but I haven't received a reply. If this letter gets printed (hopefully), any Thundercats fan can write to me and I'll write them back.

Chad Taylor

Sorry you didn't like the adaptations we did, Chad, but we feel that it's worth it to tell a good story, and, as you know, the TV show has had some of the best stories we've ever seen! We'll be publishing a few more adapations, as well as some great NEW stories in the months to come. Hope you'll be with us . . .

Dear Thundercats,

I'm a fourteen-year-old THUNDERCATS fan, and I want to write to other fans. I love the THUNDERCATS, and anybody else who does should please write me. How could I get addresses of other fans like me?

Neal Solge
36 W. 87th Street
New York, NY 10024

Neal, meet Chad (right above you). Chad, meet Neal. (Now that was simple!)

Seriously, though, each month we receive letters from thousands of THUNDERCATS fans who want to contact other fans. We could devote a little space on this page each month to print addresses for people who want to be pen-pals (naah . . . make that THUNDERPALS!). We'll be glad to do it!

Why don't you write your name and address (don't forget the zip!), and maybe your age and favorite Thundercat, and we'll print your name in Thunderpals! All you overseas readers, write now! You'll be in great demand as THUNDERPALS! Address your envelopes to: THUNDERPALS, c/o Marvel Comics, 387 Park Ave. South, New York, NY 10016.

WATCH THIS SPACE!

Starting with our very next issue, this space will contain a veritable plethora of nifty features, including:
