Chapter 5

Later that night; Lion-O and Jolene were in their quarters, "Red; I can't decide which night gown to wear to bed. Should I wear the blue one, the green one or the strawberry colored one that you got me during my trials?" Jolene asked. "None of them; I don't want to have to struggle with a night gown while I'm trying to bed my beautiful wife." Lion-O replied. "Giggle Lion-O be serious; help me pick." Jolene coyly replied.

"Uh uh, come here." he said cricking his finger back and forth. "What game are we to play now?" Jolene asked. "No game; I just want you to lay down on the bed, no clothes." he replied. Jolene was curious, but did as he asked; as she laid there, he looked at her up and down. 'She is so beautiful...' he thought. He took off his clothes; then laid down next to her, he gently caressed her face with the back of his hand. "I still can't believe you're my wife now; I thought you were lost to me forever, but here you are next to me. What is it you always say about your God? He works..." Lion-O said and Jolene finished with, "In mysterious ways. I know what you mean; about being apart from each other, the odd thing is I had been thinking about you a few months before Mumm-Ra brought to Thundera." "There's that proof of 'working in mysterious ways' again." Lion-O replied with a smile.

Jolene smiled back then asked, "Did you ever think about me over the years?" "Every hour of every day. There was always something that reminded me of you; a certain color of the sky, a flower that I thought you would like. There were times when I would have to confront Mumm-Ra in his pyramid; I'd catch a glimpse of you in his cauldron, I never thought or dreamed that he'd take you from Earth." Lion-O answered. "Would you call him on watching me?" she asked. "I did a few times; but I think all that did was make him more determined to bring you to Thundera." Lion-O answered. Jolene chuckled then asked, "Wouldn't it just burn Mumm-Ra's butt to suggest that he was an instrument of a higher power for good?" Lion-O chuckled too then answered, "Yes, it would." then they laughed and embraced one another; ending with a passionate kiss.

Liger went to the control room where his brother was on duty; "Did he signal yet?" Liger asked Tyron.

"No not yet; I've been waiting on it. She seems very nice Liger; are you sure we should be doing this? If we get caught; we'll be stripped and banished." Tyron replied. "Who do you think got me off the rape charges in the first place; we take care of that fine piece of ass, that's posing as our queen and we won't need to worry about rank or a home planet. We'll be able to but our own." Liger said as he licked his lips.

Just then two beeps sounded and Tamon appeared on the screen. "Have they arrived?" he asked. "Yes Tamon; earlier today, he showed her the control room." Liger replied. "Was she everything I said she was?" Tamon asked with a devilish grin. "I had a difficult time not to get a hard while looking at her." Liger replied. "Luckily when I saw her; I was already sitting, no one saw that I had one." Tyron interjected.

"Good; I'm glad you two liked what you saw, now after the two of you have your way with her. I want you to eliminate her; then frame our king for her murder. With no heir; the throne will fall into my hands, then I will dispose of Lion-O's step children. I told Lady Jolene she wouldn't live to see the first year of their marriage out; I mean to keep my word." Tamon said, then the screen went blank.

"He's crazy Liger; we'll get caught, he wants us to betray Lion-O. Not just betray him; frame him for the murder of his wife, this plan is nuts." Tyron said. "I know how we'll do it; Lion-O already thinks I want his pretty, little wife. He isn't far from the truth; but you are to cozy up to them, gain their trust. Then when the time is right; we nail the bitch." Liger replied not really listening to what his brother had said. Tyron didn't like what Liger and Tamon wanted; but Tyron had helped his brother win his case against Lynessia by saying that she came on to Liger and consented to have sex with him. Because of his part; Liger was now holding it over his head, thus forcing Tyron to help him with Tamon's scheme against Lion-O and his queen.
